American Forces Now Only 600 Miles from Tokyo

U. S. Warships Hit Hard Blow At Bonin Isles

11 Japanese Ships, 13 Planes, Wrecked

UNITED STATES PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, PEARL HARBOR, Aug. 7 (AP)—American warships, striking a devastating blow at the Bonin Islands, carried the invasion threat to within 600 miles of Tokyo as United States ground forces on Guam girded for the final showdown with remnants of the trapped Japanese garrison.

A powerful task force made the deep penetration into the southern island approaches to Japan last Thursday and Friday, Army Chief of Staff Gen. W. W. B. announced Sunday.

Sink 11 Jap Ships

Besides shelling Chichi Island in the Bonins for the first time in the war, the force sank eleven ships and several smaller craft, damaged thirty vessels and destroyed thirteen planes.

American losses were announced as sixteen planes and nineteen flight personnel, the result of anti-aircraft fire.

Ships lost by Japan included five destroyers or destroyer escorts, five cargo vessels and an oiler. A light cruiser and five smaller vessels were left burning. Damaged ships included two escort vessels and a large freighter.

The ships made up a convoy that was "virtually wiped out," Nimitz reported.

The attack force, lingering for two days deep in enemy waters without a sign of interference from the Japanese fleet, centered in the Volcano Islands—north of the invaded Marianas, and in the Bonins, still closer to Japan.

Enemy Town Destroyed

Heaviest hit was Omura town on Chichi. It was destroyed, Nimitz reported, as American warship guns raked the range for the first time. Ground installations also were hit on Muka, Ani, Haha and Iwo Islands.

Tokyo radio belatedly admitted the attack today. The broadcast, noting an imperial communiqué, followed the usual course in asserting damage was slight and in ballooning claims of damage inflicted on the striking force.

Less than a fourth of Guam Island remained in Japanese hands. That area in the northern end of the island, slowly shrinking as infantry and leathernecks closed in, included Mt. Santa Rosa.

The Seventy-seventh army division, under Maj. Gen. A. D. Bruce, was threatening to envelop Mt. Santa Rosa. It had made a brilliant three-mile advance along the wooded coast after capturing Mt. Barrigada, dominating a ridge that extended nearly across the island.

As the end approached, the Japanese were bombarded relentlessly by day and night by American warships, planes and artillery.

Lend-Lease May Not Be Extended

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—A report by the National Association of Manufacturers that British officials are insisting on continuation of lend-lease aid after Germany's defeat caused a flurry among congressmen today but acting Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., declared:

"The British government has not raised with us the future of lend-lease."

War Campaigns First

Both the United States and Britain, Stettinius told a news conference, "are completely occupied with the war campaigns in Europe and the Far East."

"No one can possibly foresee what changes in the situation the fortunes of war in Europe may bring about," he added, "or how soon these changes may reflect themselves in lend-lease operations."

Foreign economic administration officials indicated that battle considerations will remain uppermost in distributing lend-lease when Germany goes under, and if Britain needs aid to fight Japan, it probably will be forthcoming.

The present lend-lease act expires June 30 of next year, and no operations could be carried on beyond that date without congressional extension of the act.

Congress Must Act

Whatever is done, Senators Johnson (D-Colo.) and Murray (D-Mont.) told reporters "Congress should be fully consulted."

The Manufacturers Association's weekly publication, N. A. M. news, reported that British and top administration officials have discussed a proposal calling for continued lend-lease aid which "would be very frankly to support Britain's domestic economy" at a cost to the United States of $2,500,000,000 or more a year, above war costs.

Sensation in WPB: Two Officials Resign in Tiff Over Amount of Army Supplies

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—Two War Production Board officials have resigned, it was reliably reported tonight, in protest against the alleged suppression, at army request, of data prepared by them which reportedly showed abundance of supplies on hand or on order items for the army ground forces.

The two men were identified by WPB sources as V. Lewis Bassie, acting director of the progress division of WPB's Bureau of Planning and Statistics, and Irving Kaplan, chief of the Production Program Analysis Section.

The incident created a minor sensation in production quarters because of recent statements by Lieut. Gen. Brehon Somervell, commanding the army service forces, rectifying serious shortages in many production programs.

The directive of War Mobilization Director James P. Byrnes, issued Friday, sharply tightening controls over manpower and civilian production, was ascribed to the shortages.

Kaplan and Bassie, whose duties included the preparation of a confidential "progress report" on production to be presented at full sessions of the War Production Board once a month, were said to have included in July's report a finding that the army's stocks of ordnance—including items mentioned by Somervell—were in good shape.

Nimitz Reports Great Gains on Island of Guam

By LEIF ERICKSON

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, PEARL HARBOR, Aug. 7 (AP)—American troops pushed northward three miles in the center of the fighting lines on Guam Sunday to bring about nine-tenths of the American island's 225 square miles under control, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz announced today.

The advance swept over a large new Japanese cemetery where there was "evidence of the mass burial of enemy dead," Nimitz reported.

New Japanese Cemetery

This was the first mention of a new enemy cemetery in the Marianas Islands, where Saipan and Tinian, about 125 miles northward, already have been conquered. Previously, Nimitz has reported that the Japanese have been carrying back their dead as they retreated, apparently trying to conceal the extent of losses.

The village of Yigo was captured in the northern sweep, along with considerable stores of ammunition and supplies. Yigo is almost directly west of Santa Rosa peak, 870-foot mountain just ahead of the Yanks on their right or eastern flank.

With the Japanese pushed back into a tenth of Guam's area, final crushing of the remnants of the trapped Japanese garrison can be expected shortly.

Nimitz disclosed Sunday that a powerful task force penetrated the Bonin Islands last Thursday and Friday to strike a devastating blow at enemy shipping and ground installations within 600 miles of Tokyo.

75,000 Auto and Truck Owners Need Stamps

BALTIMORE, Aug. 7 (AP)—Approximately 75,000 Maryland automobile and truck owners have not purchased the $5 federal use stamp which all motor vehicles operated on streets and highways should have displayed since July 1, officials said today.

Most of the delinquents were expected to purchase their stamps before or during the three-day enforcement campaign scheduled to begin next week. Penalty for failure to purchase the use stamp is a $25 fine or thirty days in jail or both.

A similar penalty is provided for failure to display the stamp on the windshield.

Motor vehicle registration in the state this year is estimated at 305,000.

Jap Girl with Grenades in Her Bloomers Attacks Saipan Yanks

SEATTLE, Aug. 7 (AP)—Second Lt. George C. Hill of Salisbury, Md., brought a story from Saipan today of a giggling young Japanese girl who bombarded his marine unit with grenades from her bloomers, while Japanese soldiers coaxed her from behind a revetment.

The former University of Maryland student, who is hospitalized here, told a Post-Intelligencer interviewer that the girl appeared to be about nine years old.

"We were about 200 yards off the beach," he related. "There were about nine Japs behind the revetment right in front of our lines. This little girl came out from behind it to within about twenty or thirty yards of us. The Japs had filled her bloomers with grenades.

Red Army Drives Toward Silesia As Nazis Flee

Russians Report Double Victory

By DANIEL DE LUCE

MOSCOW, Aug. 7 (AP)—The Red army struck out afresh from its Vistula river bridgehead today toward German Silesia, seventy-five to ninety miles distant, as enemy defenses sagged and broke near the Lithuanian coast and in the Carpathian foothills.

Moscow's guns and rockets celebrated the double victories of Sandomierz and Boryslaw in the Galician uplands, clearing the way for a new surge against the mountains girding the Danubian basin.

These triumphs, however, were overshadowed in strategic importance by the Red army's fierce challenge to end the temporary stalemate in the heart of Poland.

The Vistula bridgehead, which has been a nightmare to Hitler's supreme command, erupted with attacks which captured over sixty settlements, swept more than twenty miles west of the river and threatened to strangle the enemy's lateral communications between the Krakow and Warsaw sectors.

Kielce, astride vital highways and railroad arteries, is directly menaced by the Red army thrust from newly occupied Szydlow, twenty-four miles south-eastward.

The direction of the new push raised the possibility of outflanking Krakow from the north and forcing another large-scale enemy withdrawal in Central Poland.

These blows, some of them possibly forerunners to a Red army push into Germany's Balkan breadbasket, were struck against Soviet forces opened a powerful drive from the northeast toward Tilsit and Memel in East Prussia.

Advance in Northeast

Moscow's daily communiqué announced the capture of Saukenal, seventy miles northeast of Tilsit, key rail center. Gen. Ivan C. Bagration's First Baltic army also seized Kursk, seventy miles from that important Baltic seaport in East Prussia.

Fifty localities were swept up in this drive launched from Siauliai, in advances up to twenty miles.

Other Soviet units striking beyond the enemy's broken Dubissa river defenses, southeast of Siauliai, overran forty towns and villages and were reported within fifty miles of Tilsit.

In Eastern Latvia Russian troops cut the railway and highway between Madona and Gulbene, eighty miles east of Riga, Latvian capital, and the landward escape route of the Germans west of Riga.

Moscow's bulletin, reporting the capture of 158 towns and villages, again did not mention embattled Warsaw which was undergoing its eighth day of siege.

Worse Than Bolsheviks

So, taking a cue from Labor Minister Robert Ley's outburst against "blueblood swine," they pictured the aristocrats as a menace worse than the Bolsheviks.

The latest to follow in the steps of Ley is the Gauleiter of Carinthia in Southern Austria who said:

"Aristocracy is an international phenomenon, the representative of which can be found in America, Britain and elsewhere."

Certain German aristocrats and generals in league with this international, he explained to a mass meeting, planned to kill Hitler and "conclude peace with Stalin after assuming power, and open the gates to a march into Germany of the Soviet divisions."

Now Like Stalin

This was not inconsistent on the part of the aristocrats, he added, because "the criminal generals and officers no longer saw Stalin as a Red handman but as a braided marshal."

Nazi commentators, trying to explain the cumulative defeats in the east and west, are jumping at the chance to blame aristocrats for Germany's hard luck.

Biddle Refuses Hatch Act Probe

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—Attorney General Francis Biddle said today the Justice department lacks authority to investigate alleged violations of the Hatch act as demanded in a letter by Chairman Dies (D-Tex.) of the House committee investigating Un-American activities.

Biddle wrote Dies that the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the criminal division of the department have referred Hatch act cases to other appropriate agencies. These Justice department units have been investigating charges that federal election laws have been violated by the CIO Political Action Committee.

The Hatch act prohibits political activities by persons receiving all or part of their salaries from the federal government.

Biddle said that the act as applied to government employees "is not a criminal statute and consequently does not come within the jurisdiction of this department."

Security Talks Delayed a Week

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—With the explanation that the Soviet government needs "a little more time" to prepare, the United States today delayed for a week the beginning of postwar security talks here with Russia and Britain.

This action moves the dates from August 14 to 21, and, possibly by coincidence, lengthens the pre-conference period in which present negotiations for a solution of Russo-Polish problems may be concluded.

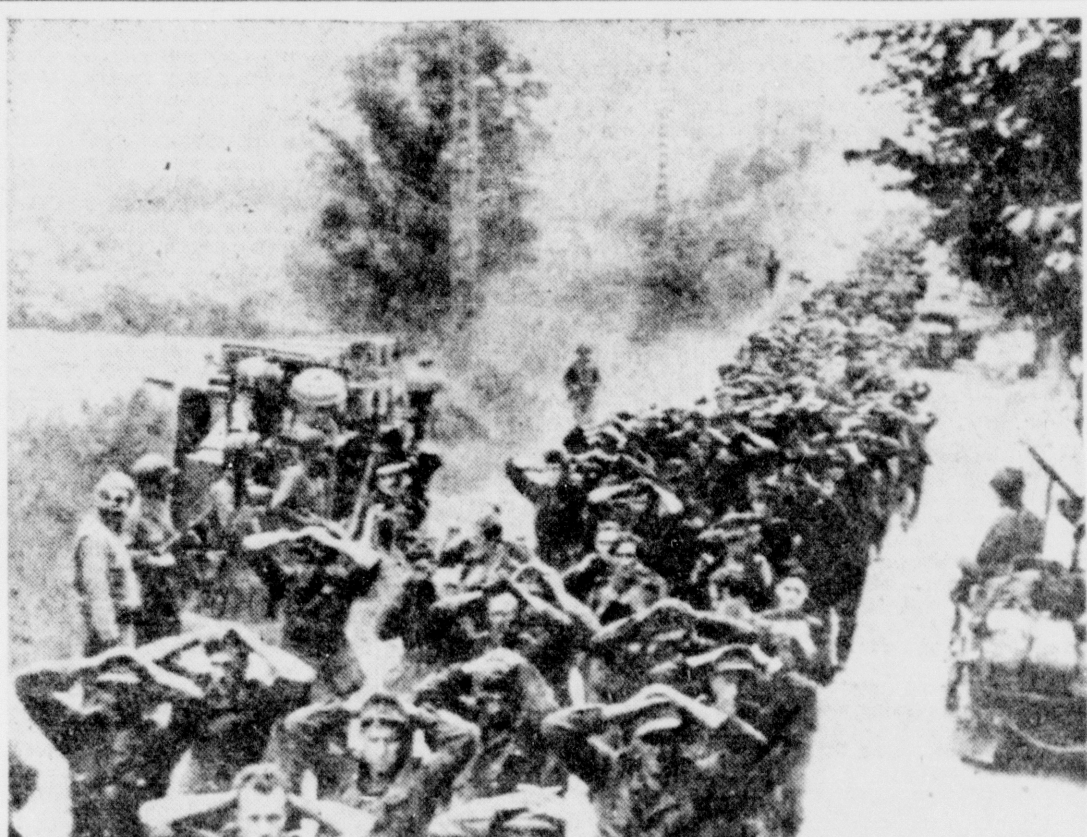

Sailor Welcomes Marines to Guam

GUAM Island, Aug. 7 (AP)—"Welcome Marines" read a sign that greeted surprised leathernecks as they stormed a Guam beach.

The board sign had been placed in the sand by an American navy gunner's mate, H. L. Green (address unavailable).

Navy Lt. William G. Carberry of Covington, Ky., said the premature landing of the gunner's mate was not exactly regulation, and smiled as he added Green had been "disciplined."

NAZIS LEARN TO SAY 'UNCLE' TO UNCLE SAM'S BOYS

BY THE HUNDREDS AND THOUSANDS, the German troops from Avranches to Rennes and to the coastal tip of Brest have been surrendering as the United States forces raced across the Breton peninsula with a tank-and-man smash that will not soon be forgotten. With hands on heads, the big parade of enemy prisoners marches directly into the camera. This is but one of many similar pageants of defeat, being enacted at Brest, St. Nazaire, St. Malo, Lorient and other points of collapse—on the Brittany coast.

Allies Preparing For New Assault On Gothic Line

By NOLAN NORGAARD

ROME, Aug. 7 (AP)—Battle-hardened Allied fighting men moved into position tonight for the next great assault on an Italian water barrier, the Arno river, barring their path to the enemy's fortified Gothic line.

British Eighth army troops and men of the United States Fifth army, many of them veterans of the bloody crossings of the Volturno, Sangro and Rapido rivers, waited only for the reduction of a few pockets of Nazi resistance on the south banks of the Arno, east and west of Florence, and for the completion by engineers of preparations for the new assault.

German Fight Hard

Small groups of Germans, grimly hanging on in the face of Allied pressure, were all that were left from a point three miles east of Florence to Montelupo, twelve miles west.

Allied reconnaissance patrols invaded the important river towns of Montelupo and Empoli but they remained in no-man's land. An important center of German resistance on the ridge southwest of Pontassieve, in the bend of the Arno, was being steadily reduced.

Once those German pockets have been wiped out General Sir Harold Alexander's American, British and Dominion forces can be massed on a sixty-mile front from the Arno's mouth to Pontassieve.

South African troops made contact with the Germans on the north bank of the river in thrusts which an Allied spokesman explained were only reconnaissance patrols which had returned.

Vatican Alarmed

Alarm expressed by the Vatican that the great Renaissance city of Florence might be destroyed was allayed by word from the Allied command that the city's main area on the north side of the Arno was apparently occupied only by small parties of machine-gunners, and by the declaration from an official source that "there will be no need for the city itself to become a battlefield."

On both sides of Florence, however, the Nazis were digging in for a desperate stand. Big guns emplaced on the hills north of the Arno continued to toss shells into the Eighth army lines. Allied artillery was not shelling any part of the city.

Taking a lesson from their failure in Rome, the Nazis ordered the early demolition of Florence's bridges. Close pursuit forced them to leave the Tiber bridges intact during the drive on Rome.

The Germans gave new evidence of widespread sabotage in Northern Italy with their communique today saying 1,212 "terrorists and saboteurs" were annihilated between August 1-5.

700,000 Negro Troops Now in Service

SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE, Aug. 7 (AP)—Brig. Gen. Oliver Davis, only negro general in the United States army, told war correspondents tonight there now are 700,000 negro troops in the United States forces, with approximately 5,000 commissioned officers, and that he was looking to the day when there would be at least 10,000 negro officers.

Commenting on racial differences, General Davis said "when I was in London two years ago our own soldiers didn't get along so well with each other but now on this side I have been told there is no racial unpleasantness."

The general said he had found morale among negro troops in Normandy "very high—I haven't heard of a growl yet."

Windor To Visit Baltimore Today

However, the duchess will not make the trip. General Warfield said.

Nazi from Brooklyn Glad To See Yanks

VANNES, France, Aug. 7 (AP)—"Every place you go you meet someone from Brooklyn."

Two ancient trucks wheeled into the town square jammed with French resistance forces, guns sticking out in all directions. In the center of all this bustling might were four frightened Nazi prisoners.

One of them, trembling in every bone, spotted the Americans. He screamed:

"Ich freud! Ich von Brooklyn! I'm a friend. I'm from Brooklyn!"

Two Polish Groups Fail To Agree at Moscow Conference

By DANIEL DELUCE

MOSCOW, Tuesday, Aug. 8 (AP)—Negotiations for the rival Polish political regimes left their third meeting at midnight last night without agreeing when they would convene again, but a source close to Premier Stanislaw Mikolajczyk of the London Polish government said "the crisis, if any, has not yet been reached."

In two days Mikolajczyk's delegation of exiles and representatives of the Committee of National Liberation, fresh from Poland, have talked and argued for more than ten hours in a flag-hung chamber of the former Polish embassy.

1,017 Japs Killed

Allied headquarters said abler remnants of the beaten enemy had crossed the swollen Chindwin river, using many rafts and a few motor boats and suffering casualties. The Japanese apparently were trying to establish a makeshift defense line on the left bank of the river. The Allied Fourteenth army estimated it had killed 1,017 Japanese in the last half of July.

Headquarters said captured Japanese were "in a shocking state." Piles of Japanese bodies were being buried in the ruins of Myittha, main Japanese base in Northern Burma which Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's forces captured last week. In the vicinity of Tama Allied troops found about 400 Japanese dead or dying from wounds and starvation.

Lumber for Leaks

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—Home owners seeking lumber for repair work will get no help from the War Production Board or Federal Housing Administration except in cases of real emergency such as leaks in the roof, WPB said today.

Son of Late Gen. McNair Dies In Service on Island of Guam

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—The death in Guam of Col. Douglas McNair, 37, only son of the late Lt. Gen. Leslie J. McNair was announced today by the War department.

The circumstances of his death were not reported in the news message which the War department received from his commander, Maj. Gen. A. D. Bruce, commander of the Seventy-seventh division now in action on Guam.

General McNair, the colonel's father, former commander of the Pacific island's defense forces, was given an important but undisclosed overseas assignment early in July, and was who lives in Washington, D. C.

Americans Wreck Japanese Plans To Enter India

By CHARLES A. GRUMICH

SOUTHEAST ASIA COMMAND HEADQUARTERS, KANDY, CEYLON, Aug. 7 (AP)—Allied forces swung into the concluding phase of their rigorous monsoon campaign which has wrecked the Japanese plan of invading Northeast India, and pressed deeper into Northern Burma today beyond the captured frontier base of Tama.

The Japanese offered no organized resistance in the rain-soaked jungle in the Kabaon valley. It was stated officially that only sick and wounded Japanese remain in the area west of the Chindwin river and north of an east-west line through Tama.

Transit Walkout Probe under Way

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 7 (AP)—Uncle Sam restored Philadelphia's transportation to normal today, guarded every vehicle against violence, fired four leaders of the wildcat transit walkout, and assembled material for presentation to a federal grand jury convening Wednesday to investigate the strike.

The army was running the Philadelphia Transportation Company, which it seized Thursday night, but no soldiers were required to operate any bus, trolley, elevated or subway train. All except thirteen of the 6,900 operating employees returned to work on schedule to meet the army's "work or be fired" ultimatum. This compared with an average absenteeism of 9.5 per cent during the last three months.

13 Fail To Report

Of the thirteen employees who failed to report, an army spokesman said "it is not yet known how many of them will be able to present medical certificates of illness to excuse their absence."

There was almost unanimous "sickness" reported among the employees as they walked out in protest against the upgrading of eight negroes to trolley motorman. One of the eight negroes appeared today to resume instruction, appearing at a car barn suddenly quiet. After an hour, he was sent home to await a call. Apparently the other seven also were awaiting calls.

An army spokesman questioned as to the negro trainees' status, said:

"Delay action on Negroes."

"Our first duty is to get these roads back into normal operation and make sure that operation stays normal. Everything else will be taken up in order."

135 Nazi Tanks Knocked Out by Allied Planes

Furious Fighting Reported at Brest

By JAMES M. LONG

SUPREMACY HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, Tuesday, Aug. 8 (AP)—American forces drove to within 120 miles of Paris yesterday as their comrades far in the rear smashed the biggest German counter-attack since D-Day at the narrow Normandy-Brittany corridor, where four tank divisions tried to split in half the three Allied armies in France.

A total of 135 enemy tanks—the greatest enemy loss in a single day since the Allies stormed ashore June 6—were knocked out by Allied planes alone in the futile thrust toward Avranches.

Plan Leaves in Paris

Thrusting fifteen miles beyond last reported positions across the Mayenne river, Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley's tanks and doughboys ran into the first organized resistance in their dash toward the French capital, already being emptied of Nazi officers.

Even this opposition was not in strength, and doughboys, some of whom have advanced 115 miles in a week, were already talking of getting leaves in Paris. The fighting was beyond Mayenne and Laval, but specific mileages were not discussed.

Hard Fighting at Brest

In the mop-up, the British peninsula, hard fighting was reported at Brest and within two miles of the north coast of St. Malo. Fifty miles west of St. Malo, an American force occupied Guinecamp with its network of highways.

Allied officers, acknowledging the importance of the German attack on the Normandy-Brittany corridor, emphasized that Avranches never was threatened because the scope of the enemy counterattack was limited.

With Tiger and Panther tanks the Germans drove forward three miles and beyond Cherbourg-Le-Roussel, narrowing the Avranches corridor to little more than 10 miles, but there the attack wilted in the massed fire of big United States guns and swarms of warplanes.

Tanks Race into Battle

Then United States tanks raced into the battle and the enemy was driven back out of Mortain, fifteen miles east of Avranches, which had been carried in the initial rush. Late front dispatches indicated the thrust had been stopped.

This attack, coming at a time when the enemy's flank both north and south of the bulge were crumbling, was described as a strong local counterattack and not in the proportions of a counter-offensive.

(The Berlin radio, claiming a six-mile penetration, gave strength to this view, quoting a dispatch from German headquarters to the effect that the attack was such in nature that it had felled an American attempt to crush the Vire salient with an

Military Wedding Is Solemnized In Local Church

First Lt. Harold W. Gerard Weds Sgt. Elizabeth Louise Dyer

A strictly military wedding was solemnized last evening at 8 o'clock in the parsonage of the First Methodist church, when Sgt. Elizabeth Louise Dyer, WAC daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dyer, 106 Potomac street, became the bride of First Lt. Harold Wheeler Gerard, son of Mrs. Nettie Gerard, 139 Humbird street.

The Rev. George E. Baughman officiated and Miss Wanda Gerard, Mrs. Alta Gehauf, Mrs. Earl Hynes and Mrs. and Mrs. William Carroll attended.

The bride attended Pennsylvania avenue school and prior to entering the service, February 3, 1942, was employed at the Celanese Corporation of America. She received her basic training at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., took a twenty-one week course in radio school in Kansas City; a ten week course at Colorado Springs and is now a radio operator at Topeka, Kas.

The bridegroom, a bombardier on a B-24 Liberator, is home after fifty missions with the Fifteenth AAF. Having taken part in missions over Regensburg, Steyr, Ploesti, Budapest, Bucharest as well as other missions over Germany, Austria, France, Romania and Italy.

Lt. Gerard started in basketball at Pennsylvania avenue school, from which he graduated in 1933. He served with the national guard for six years, rising to staff sergeant; and entered the army when the national guard was mobilized early in 1941. About a year and a half ago he transferred to the air force, and graduated with bombardier wings and was commissioned a second lieutenant after training at Fort Rucker, Ala., Florida, Kansas, Idaho and California. He went overseas the latter part of November 1943 and was stationed in Africa and Italy. The latter part of July he was promoted to first lieutenant.

Lt. Gerard has been awarded the Presidential Citation with an Oak Leaf Cluster; the North African, Mediterranean, American Defense and American Theater ribbons.

Immediately following the ceremony Lt. Gerard and his bride left for a wedding trip to Washington and Baltimore. She will return to duty at Topeka, Sunday and he will report to the air base in Florida August 28.

Senate Divided
On Reconversion

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (P)—The Senate took on an increasingly warlike mood tonight on the eve of tackling the intricate economic problem of an approaching peace. Democratic proponents of a bill to create an Office of War Mobilization and Adjustment and set federal standards for unemployment compensation were asserted by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) to have disregarded the recommendations of the postwar report by Presidential Advisor Bernard M. Baruch, in favor of "a CIO-sponsored measure."

George Backs Taft

Siding with Taft as a bi-partisan coalition to fight the measure took shape, Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the Senate Finance committee declared the bill's sponsors promised war workers "more than they can ever get" and paved the way for "a vast new federal bureaucracy."

In reply to such attacks, Senator Kilgore (D-W.Va.) said George's separate bill to include federal shipworkers and other industrial government employees as beneficiaries of unemployment pay but to leave rate-fixing to the states, advocated a policy "of doing nothing to solve the problem of human demobilization."

As the Senate moved toward debate starting tomorrow, with Majority Leader Barkley (Ky.) talking optimistically of a decision "within two or three days," he heard a recommendation from Senator Truman (D-Mo.) that it "enlarge its work of investigation in all fields."

Truman Wants Information
Preparing for his campaign as Democratic vice-presidential nominee after relinquishing the War Investigating committee's chairmanship to Senator Mead (D-N.Y.), Truman told his colleagues that "an informed Congress is a wise Congress, and an uninformed Congress surely will forfeit a large portion of respect and confidence of the people."

Meanwhile Senator Johnson (D-Colo.) told a Senate Military subcommittee, that Congress should retain first postwar control over the nation's expanded merchant marine and air force, rather than delegate authority to an executive agency.

The committee is trying to work out legislation guiding the disposal of more than $75,000,000,000 of gov-

Says Happy
KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN User

If you are still dosing your constipation, don't fail to read this unsolicited letter!

"I've been troubled with common constipation for years. Tried many kinds of medicines for it. Then, just about a year ago, I tried KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN. I ate it regularly, without missing a dose. It helped so much. I have not taken one dose of medicine for constipation since, nor have I needed myself to any other." Mrs. S. F. Leche, Charleston, Missouri.

Sounds like magic, doesn't it? But, scientists say, KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN can really "get at" a common cause of constipation—lack of dietary "cultures"—elements—because it is one of Nature's most effective sources of these elements! They help the friendly colonic flora fluff up and prepare the colonic contents for easy elimination. KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is not a purgative! Doesn't "sweep you out"! It's a gentle-acting, "regulating" food!

If you have constipation of this kind, eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN, or several ALL-BRAN muffins regularly. Drink plenty of water. See if you don't find real relief. Inset on genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

outflanking movement to the south.

Battle for Brest Ports
Par to the west American tank forces ran on through Brittany, where they have captured 13,300 Germans and killed at least 3,400 more, and were fighting in or near all the five great ports, Brest, Lorient, St. Nazaire, St. Malo and Nantes.

Enemy withdrawal from Paris was reported to have begun in the face of the imminent menace—United States troops rolling east along a fifty-three-mile front, the British across the Orne river barrier, and the Canadians lashing out east of Caen—the last according to German accounts.

With nearly one-tenth of Continental France now in Allied hands, the Americans and British were steadily driving the enemy from his best positions blocking the way to the French capital.

Americans Near Le Mans

Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley's First United States army was setting the pace, entering Domfront, 135 miles west of Paris, and pressing on the transportation center of Le Mans, protecting the southwestern approaches to Paris, 100 miles away.

Lt. Gen. Sir Miles C. Dempsey's Second British army broke across the Orne along a two-mile front fifteen miles southwest of Caen in an outflanking threat to those formidable positions five miles south of Caen which the Germans have used to check the drive toward the French capital.

And the Germans reported that Lt. Gen. H. D. G. Crepan's Canadian First army—revealed today to be a separate force in the field for the first time in Canada's history—had opened a new assault on Troarn, eight miles east of Caen and 115 miles west of Paris.

The surprising German counter-attack at the Allies Avranches corridor opened at dawn along an eight-mile front from Sourdeval on the north to Mortain on the south and reached its greatest penetration at Cherche-Le-Roussel, only fifteen and one-half miles east of Avranches.

Desperate Nazi
Counter Attack
Proves Failure

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

Associated Press War Analyst

There was more than a hint of desperation in the first heavy German counter attack to strike American lines in France since the breakthrough into Brittany and the Loire valley.

It came too late to have done more than slow up the many-fanged Yankee blitz even had it reached its indicated objective, the Avranches gateway. Nor was it strong enough so far as yet revealed to be rated as more than a delaying action, probably intended to permit a sweeping withdrawal of the crumbling German left flank.

Dent American Lines

The site of the attack between Mortain and Sourdeval just south of American captured Vire on the main Vire-Domfront highway was admirably chosen by the foe if that was his purpose. The blow dented American lines some three miles deep, ousted the captors of Mortain and probably cut direct westward communication for the armored spearhead which had reached and passed Domfront, twelve miles east-southeast of Mortain.

That American stab along the Avranches-Mortain-Domfront-Alencon highway threatens to turn successive Nazi defense positions behind the Orne, Dives and other lesser rivers west of the Seine if not checked. The seemingly impending German retreat to the Seine on that flank under pressure of British and Canadian armies on the northern end of the Allied line could be turned into a rout by a deep American eastward break-through.

Nazi May Withdraw

See-Seine corridor, if it has been blunted and contained as early reports indicated, probably will be quickly pulled back to escape being crushed between American elements at Vire in the north and at Domfront in the south. The Germans may have risked that with up to four armored divisions in order to extricate their army from a far larger pocket forming between the Americans at Domfront on the right and British and Canadian forces which have forced the Orne line at Thury-Marcourt south of Caen.

It becomes increasingly apparent each day that orders from the highest Nazi sources are compelling commanders in France to cling desperately to every inch of ground in the north, even at the price of the loss of all Brittany and the intensifying American threat in the Loire valley to Paris itself. There are credible reports of flight from Paris and Vichy of Nazi and French collaborationist elements, fore-shadowing their possible evacuation.

Demand for Low-Priced Motors Keeps Stock List Above Normal

By VICTOR EUBANK
NEW YORK, Aug. 7 (AP)—Persistent heavy demand for low-priced cars kept the stock market's temperature generally above normal today, although many leaders seemed to warm up to recovery.
In the past week, large-scale bidding for the junior automotive issues apparently was based on reports of management changes, new financing sources, merger discussions and plans for big production when the peace goes on in Europe.
Scattered bidding elsewhere emanated from those who thought that quick victory over the Nazis might not find reconversion difficulties at home as great as some had expected. Skeptics were numerous, however, and these either continued to trim their accounts or stand aside.
Transactions in stocks of the independent motor makers accounted for nearly half of the total volume of 1,071,000 shares. This compared with 1,114,600 last Friday.
Peaks for the year or longer were registered by Graham-Paige, which opened up 1½ on a 35,000-share block; Hupp Motors, Packard and Hayes Mfg., all of which came out in deals running to 10,000 shares. In the majority of cases extreme gains were well required at the close.

Price changes were again limited to fractions for the most part in today's bond market and the general trend was cloudy despite some firm spots among selected rails and industrial specialties.
It was the slowest session since one year ago today with sales totaling but $4,725,900, against $7,092,900 last Friday. U. S. governments were narrow.

Are you doing enough Home Canning?
it takes a lot of food
to feed a family!

Next winter many foods may be scarce, because seventy per cent of the fruit pack and half the vegetable pack will be reserved for our armed forces and allies. That's why it's important for you to do as much home canning as possible. Can more in '44—and you'll find it easy—and economical in both ration points and money—to have delicious, well balanced and nutritious meals for all the family next winter.

Home canning is easy especially with your Gas range (and a sure way to save on your food budget. For prompt, authentic information on any phase of canning, call on the Home Service Department of your Gas company.

5 "MUSTS" IN HOME CANNING

1. Select sound fruit and vegetables as fresh from garden as possible, and grade according to size and quality.
2. Clean all vegetables or fruits thoroughly before you start to can. Use only those that are firm and ripe.
3. Can them speedily—not more than two hours from garden to canning.
4. Once you've started, don't let interrupt from delay you. Food spoils quickly in warm weather.
5. Follow canning directions closely as to length of time and method. This is most important for best results.

To help you solve dozens of problems in Home Canning, we've had a special booklet prepared for experts. You can secure a copy merely by writing, or stopping in at your Gas company.

Fairgo Entries Brownies Start Final Eastern Trip of Season

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 7 (AP)—With the cheers of the season's best paying crowd still ringing in their ears, the pennant-hungry St. Louis Browns, leading the American League by six and one-half games, left town tonight on a possible make-or-break road trip.

Despite the Browns' first-place margin and an eight-game winning streak, Manager Luke Sewell affirmed his healthy respect for every club in the circuit.

"We've got everybody to beat," he said before he left for a rest at his Akron, O. home. He'll meet the team in New York for its first game with the Yankees Wednesday.

Only the National League New York Giants and the Pirates will be busy at Pittsburgh tomorrow among the major league clubs. The others are in the midst of a two-day travel schedule finding their places for the circuit tour.

Nearly 17,000 fans who watched the Browns rap the Cleveland Indians twice Sunday were figuring it would take a long losing streak to stall the Browns' pennant drive.

But even if the Browns play 500 ball the rest of the way, the second-place Red Sox would have to win thirty-two of their remaining fifty-one games for a 627 percentage to catch them. That's ninety-three points better than the Boston pace so far.

The Browns picked up their present lead by winning fourteen of nineteen home games. They still have twenty-three games to play in St. Louis, including consecutive series with the Red Sox and Yankees to wind up the season.

In the home stand just finished, they produced some spectacular fielding. Don Gutteridge developed a hitting streak and fans recorded the best attendance figures since 1929. These things have given the club added confidence the 1944 World Series will be an all-St. Louis party between the Browns and the National League Cardinals.

Johnson and Paddy Driscoll were in charge.

Twilight Tear Is Expected To Cost Saratoga $14,000

NEW YORK, Aug. 7 (AP)—Twilight Tear, Miss America of the 1944 turf world, cost the Belmont Racing Association $14,000 the last time she pranced on a New York track and she probably will cost the Saratoga organization a similar amount tomorrow in the sixty-fifth running of the Alabama stakes.

The New York state racing law provides that five cents must be paid for every dollar bet on the winner and the Warren Wright filly, potentially the horse of the year, scared away all but three rivals for tomorrow's event.

With two of the Challengers carrying the colors of William Woodward's Belair stud, only three interests will be involved in the race with straight betting the rule.

Because of her eleven consecutive triumphs this year, Twilight Tear will be the odds-on favorite against Vienna and Thred O'Gold from Woodward's barn and Mrs. Dodge Sloan's Dare Me.

At the spring Belmont meeting Twilight Tear defeated five other three-year-old fillies in the Coaching Club stakes with the association having to dip into its own resources to make the betting payments. This time the field is even smaller.

Should Twilight Tear win the Alabama, a mile and a quarter test restricted to members of her sex, the first place purse will push the Calumet farm's 1944 winnings past the record high for one year established by the same stable in 1941 when Whirlaway was burning up the turf.

Up to now the Wright thoroughbreds have won $469,400 this season, and a Twilight Tear victory would add another $12,500. The 1941 aggregate was $475,091.

YOU

THERE'S A PLACE FOR YOU ON THIS TEAM!

The Blue Streak, a B-24 Liberator, was one of the greatest bombers that ever climbed into the sky.

She flew 110 missions . . . 300,000 miles . . . over Germany, Italy, Roumania, Greece, Austria, Africa, Sicily.

Her air combat crews sank a Nazi freighter off Crete . . . blew up a tanker at . . . sent a destroyer to the bottom of the sea.

They shot down 23 German and Italian fighters . . . dropped half a million pounds of bombs . . . won the Distinguished Unit Badge and countless individual decorations for gallantry in action.

Yet in all her battles in enemy skies, not a man in any of her crews was ever wounded!

Ask her pilot, Maj. Ralph P. Thompson, of Columbus, O., how she managed to roll up such a record, and he'll tell you: "Because there were no 'individual stars' on her crew. We flew her and fought her as a team . . . gunners, navigator, bombardier, and pilot, all working together to win."

"And that's the thing any young fellow—who wants to win his wings in the AAF—should keep uppermost in his mind . . ."

"You're on a team in the AAF . . . from your first day of training until you get up there in action. And it's a team that's never been stopped . . . that never will be stopped . . . the 'greatest team in the world!'"

Today, the AAF is writing history.

Libertors and Fortresses are blacking out the skies over Germany. Japan is already beginning to feel the awful power of the Superfortress. Swarms of heavy bombers, medium bombers, light bombers and fighters are spearheading the attack on every front.

Today—more than ever before—there's a place for you on this great AAF team.

If you are 17 . . . if you want action, adventure . . . the finest, most thorough training any flying man ever had . . . an opportunity to make a career in aviation after the war . . .

Then go to your nearest AAF Examining Board and see if you can qualify for the Air Corps/Enlisted Reserve . . . with an opportunity to win your wings as gunner, navigator, bombardier or pilot in the AAF . . . the "greatest team in the world!"

MEN OF 17...

You can get ready now for your place on the "greatest team in the world"—the AAF. Go to your nearest AAF Examining Board . . . see if you can qualify for the Air Corps/Enlisted Reserve. If you qualify, you will receive this insignia . . . but will not be called for training until you are 18 or over.

When called, you will be given further tests to determine the type of training you will receive. If you are trained as a gunner or technician gunner, you will go into actual combat as a non-commissioned officer. If your aptitudes are outstandingly high, you will be trained as a bombardier, navigator or pilot, and upon successful completion of training, will be graduated as a Flight Officer or Second Lieutenant.

For pre-aviation training, see your local Civil Air Patrol officers. Also see your High School principal or adviser about recommended courses in the Air Service Division of the High School Victory Corps. Mt. Savage Man Injured by Fall At Parsons High School Building

Firemen's Club Worker Loses Balance and Drops Twenty Feet at Hall

By CATHERINE O'ROURKE
MT. SAVAGE, August 7.—Andrew Grim was seriously injured today when he fell down the shaft at the Firemen's hall.

Grim, who works in the Firemen's club, was on the top floor of the building, helping hoist a keg of beer up to the club room. The pulley on which the keg was being hoisted, became stuck, and Grim leaned over the railing to see what caused the delay when the force of the pulley caused him to lose his balance. He fell twenty feet to the basement floor of the hall. The shaft is used to put the hose in to dry.

The full extent of his injuries has not been determined, but his back is injured and he suffered severe lacerations and bruises about the body. At present he is at his home, Railroad hall.

Sgt. C. H. Hensel, Pfc. E. K. Wilson Killed in France

Parents of Two Cumberland Soldiers Advised by War Department

Two more Cumberland men have paid the supreme sacrifice on the battlefields of France, it has been revealed by the War Department.

The latest soldiers to be reported "killed in action" are:

Sgt. Charles H. Hensel, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard M. Hensel, 171 Thomas street, was reported killed in France Sunday, July 16, according to a telegram received by his parents Sunday.

Pfc. Earl Kenneth Wilson, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Wilson, 539 Central avenue, was reported killed in action in France, Thursday, July 13, his parents were advised on Sunday evening.

Overseas since April

Sgt. Hensel entered the army October 16, 1942 and has been overseas since April, 1944. He was attached to the Eighty-third Infantry division. Prior to his induction into the service he was employed in the warp knitting department of the Amelco plant of the Celanese Corporation of America.

A graduate of Pennsylvania avenue high school, class of 1934 where he played on the baseball and soccer teams, Sgt. Hensel was a member of St. John's Lutheran church.

Surviving besides his parents are two sisters, Mrs. Paul F. Hartung, 215 Holland street, and Mrs. Walter Orndorff and a brother, Kenneth Hensel, at home.

Pfc. Earl Kenneth Wilson, was graduated from Port Hill high school in 1938 and prior to joining the army, July 18, 1941, he was employed at the Celanese plant. He was stationed at Camp Croft, N. C., Fort George G. Meade, A. F. Hill and after returning from maneuvers in Florida he was stationed at Camp Kilmer, N. J., before sailing overseas October 1, 1942 with Company F, One Hundred Fifteenth Infantry, Twenty-ninth division.

In the final letter received by his parents, Pfc. Wilson told of seeing Pfc. Claude E. Weimer, of 401 South Cedar street, killed in action in France, June 10.

Married English Girl

Besides his parents, he is survived by his widow, the former Diana Evans, of Welles Somerset, England, whom he married September 22, 1943, and two brothers in the service, namely, Pfc. Elie G. Wilson, stationed somewhere in the Southwest Pacific, and Earl Leslie Wilson, stationed at the Naval Training School, Bainbridge, Md.

Permanent officers for the Allegany county branch of the National Citizens Political Action Committee were selected last evening at a meeting of the organization in the Queen City hotel and Benjamin W. O'Rourke, chairman of the Maryland state legislative board of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, agreed to continue as temporary chairman of the group.

Mrs. Sylvia Porter, Froburg, president of the Women's Republican Club of Froburg, and a member of Local 1874, TWUA, was elected co-chairman of the organization formed here as part of a nationwide campaign to re-elect President Roosevelt.

Other permanent officers will be vice chairman, William J. Jones, vice-president of the local Boiler-makers union, treasurer, G. Edwin Parker, treasurer of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and secretary, Charles E. Stutzman, business agent of Local 433, Teamsters and Chauffeurs Union.

The group accepted a recommendation of the executive board that finances for the work of the group be met through $1 membership contributions.

Railroad Engineer Gets a "Surprise"

Maek Patterson, 330 Cumberland street, Baltimore and Ohio railroad engineer with a service record of forty-six years, is enjoying a vacation at his home, which he says came to him as a big though welcome surprise.

On arriving at the end of his run at Connellsville, Pa., Saturday he says the surprise was handed him in a notice from the company that he was to have a week's vacation. Maek has been working steadily for a long time owing to wartime necessity. He says he will spend the whole of his vacation at his home getting re-acquainted with his old Cumberland friends.

Local Soldier Is Home from Aleutians

Having served fifteen months in the Aleutian islands, Pfc. Kenneth E. Sherman is spending a fifteen day furlough with his wife and family at their home, 309 Water street.

Pfc. Sherman served in the harbor defense and has received the Asiatic-Pacific ribbon with one bronze star, the American Defense ribbon, and the Good Conduct medal.

Prior to enlisting in the army in January 1943, he was employed by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company. He trained at Camp Meade, Calif., and left for service in the Aleutian islands.

2 Allegany County Men Are Wounded

Two Allegany countians, one from Cumberland and the other from Bowling Green, and two West Virginians, one from Paw Paw, and the other from Elkins were included on Monday's casualty list as announced by the War Department.

Pfc. Daniel W. Henderson, brother of Mrs. C. R. Cresson, 207 Spring street, was wounded in France July 4, and was a former employee of the B. and O. Bolt and Forge shop here. He entered the army in October 1942 and went overseas last March.

And if the handles were made in Cumberland they came from the Homeshop Lumber Supply, operated by J. E. Nixon in the rear of his home at 619 Fairview avenue.

It is an up and coming local firm that started four years ago with practically no orders in sight and has progressed to the point where now there are 750,000 knife handles on order for five nationally known cutlery producing companies.

Used by Armed Forces

After the war broke out, Nixon's entire production went to the armed forces and included handles for such implements as foot-long machetes and bolo knives as well as paring and butcher knives. For the past six months, however, about half of the output has been turned over to civilian use.

The machetes used the handles in the South Pacific and gave the bolo knives to natives of that area to build up goodwill and friendship, Nixon said. He added that he understands the natives use their bolo knives for practically every purpose, ranging from eating and making clothes to road construction.

Nixon is quick to point out that handles he and his five employees produce are no different from those made by other firms. "I just get the wood from my customers and turn out the handles in a hurry."

That is no exaggeration. Nixon says his plant can produce 500 handles an hour on one machine and to demonstrate his point he turned out one handle in almost the time it took him to turn on the cutter.

He pointed out that some of his cutters make as high as 20,000 revolutions per minute.

Former Broker

Nixon was in the brokerage business until he was forced to retire because of ill health following the death of his son, Paul Nixon, in an automobile accident six years ago.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Lillie Brown Parker, two daughters, Mrs. Viola Hamilton, Baltimore pike, and Mrs. Hazel Cook, Cumberland, one son, Pfc. William Parker, Camp Howze, Texas; four sisters, Mrs. Florence Carney, Froburg; Mrs. Emma Wagus, Midland; Mrs. Catherine Cunningham, Pittsburgh; and Mrs. Raphael Winner, of this city. The body will remain at the Hafer Funeral Home pending arrangements.

Local Shop Produces Knife Handles For Five Leading Cutlery Firms

750,000 Orders Are on Hand; Some Go to Armed Forces

Although you may not be aware of it, chances are if you've bought any cutlery lately the wooden handles were made right here in Cumberland.

Police Capture Armed Convicts Who Fled Prison

The two convicts who escaped from Rockview prison, Bellefonte, Pa., on July 13 were captured by Maryland State Police and Garrett county authorities near Accident early yesterday afternoon.

The convicts, one carrying a thirty-two caliber automatic pistol and the other a knife with a seven inch blade were taken into custody as they walked along a back road leading from Accident to Friendsville.

Sgt. Harold C. Carl, who led the search for the men, said the convicts were taken by surprise although one of them attempted to flee but ran into the arms of Trooper Blair J. Buckel.

Zoning Law Is Given Approval

A zoning ordinance for Cumberland, prepared by Jefferson Grinnalds, Baltimore, was unanimously approved by the Cumberland Planning and Zoning Commission at its monthly session yesterday in the mayor's office at city hall.

The first of a series of public hearings was held recently by the commission in city hall.

Mayor Thomas S. Post, ex-officio member of the commission, said the mayor and council will conduct a public hearing on the ordinance sometime during the month of September.

Harold W. Smith, secretary, said he has been advised that the Cumberland flood project model, which is being built in Vicksburg, Miss., will be completed this month.

Royal A. Stone suggested that the commission meet with army engineers following completion of the model to thoroughly discuss flood control for Cumberland. Smith said that efforts will be made to arrange such a conference. It was pointed out that several different army engineers have worked on the plan but have since been transferred and that the new men should be made familiar with the needs of the community.

Dr. Thomas W. Koon, chairman of the commission which also includes J. William Groves, presided.

Council Objects As Mayor Names Law Study Group

Announcement by Mayor Thomas S. Post yesterday of the names of a five-man committee to study present state laws affecting the city started a heated discussion at the meeting of the mayor and city council yesterday morning.

Commissioner James Orr questioned the mayor's authority to name such a group but Charles Z. Heskett, city attorney said city laws neither prohibit or grant such a procedure and such a group would be purely unofficial.

The mayor in reply declared, "I've yet to see where either Orr or Heskett has ever interested himself in legislation for the city's welfare."

Response Orr said he was tired of being criticized and expressed objection to any one man appointing committees.

The mayor said he is particularly interested in legislation which would give the city a portion of the state gasoline taxes and also tax utilities to provide revenue. In response to a query from the mayor Commissioner William E. McDonald said he would wait until the end of the war before doing anything about the mayor's proposal. He also declared himself tired of being criticized.

Will Serve with Pay

The committee named by the mayor includes George L. Buchanan, Thomas L. Richards, Isaac Hirsch, Frank A. Wolfhope and Myers G. Light. It will serve without compensation.

In a statement the mayor said the committee would prepare proposals of such repeal, revision and new legislation to be presented to the next state legislative session as would promote the efficiency, prosperity and welfare of the city.

Another member of the committee to name the committee, tabled by council last week, was voted down by all four commissioners yesterday.
